LIFE SCIENCES & HEALTHCARE

TozziniFreire's multidisciplinary Life Sciences & Healthcare practice group features lawyers with wide experience in assisting clients in the health industry as diverse as pharmaceuticals, biotechnology, health products, medical assistance, cosmetics, food and beverages, health insurance, among others. The firm assists both domestic and foreign companies across all areas of Law, ensuring not only a high level of technical know-how but also deep knowledge of the markets our clients operate.

The services provided by the Life Sciences & Healthcare team comprise a broad range of experience, among which we highlight: replies to complex queries involving health regulation and legislation, analysis and drafting of national and international distribution agreements, drug pricing, digital health and data privacy issues, contracts involving regulatory matters, life sciences and healthcare compliance programs, clinical research and genetic testing agreements, incorporation of new technologies, issues related to product liability and consumer rights, import and export of regulated health products, corporate matters, public-private partnerships, due diligences, trademark registrations and patent agreements, mergers and acquisitions involving companies in the sector, as well as administrative and in court proceedings regarding several and complex topics related to the Brazilian National Agency for Sanitary Surveillance (ANVISA), Brazilian National Health Insurance Agency (ANS), Ministry of Health (MS), National Commission for Incorporation of Health Technologies (CONITEC), Ministry of Agriculture, Cattle Raising and Supply (MAPA), National Counsel for Health (CNS), and rules issued by local healthcare authorities, among others.
