Excellence in Labor Law: strategic solutions for challenges across all sectors

With extensive experience in labor consulting, litigation, and administrative matters, our Labor Law team provides agile, technical, and accurate advice to national and international clients of various sizes and sectors. We focus on prevention, from the pre-contractual phase through the termination of employment and service relationships. Our guidance covers all aspects of labor law, with customized strategies for each economic sector and global mobility solutions.

In litigation, we work in individual and collective labor lawsuits, representing our clients in discussions before the Labor Prosecutor's Office and regulatory agencies. We also advise on relationships with unions, actively participating in collective bargaining, aligning objectives and specificities of each sector to ensure significant results.

Our partnership with human resources, legal, and financial departments ensures efficient preventive strategies and the management of legal and administrative proceedings. We also work in the social security sector, developing solutions and products, including structuring executive compensation projects.

Our clients benefit from specialized professionals and cutting-edge infrastructure, as well as a commitment to personalized and excellent service, enhanced by the synergy between our advisory, labor litigation, and social security teams.
