Digital law is an increasingly relevant practice, which involves a complex market whose demands are not restricted to specific sectors of activity. In view of the new challenges and based on a global vision, TozziniFreire has a specialized team that guarantees its clients comprehensive assistance in all legal issues involving technology and innovation.

As we feature a multidisciplinary team led by eleven partners from different practices, such as Corporate, Mergers and Acquisitions, Litigation, Capital Markets, Cybersecurity & Data Privacy, Compliance, Intellectual Property, Labor and Tax, all our projects are developed in intense collaboration between our practice areas and sector groups. Our multidisciplinary approach qualifies us to support innovation initiatives in several industries, including technology for agriculture, health, finance, insurance and regulation, as well as in the biotechnology, mobility and energy sectors, among others.

The services we offer comprise the development of broad strategies to reduce the legal risks inherent in the use of data, analysis of contracts, terms of use, privacy policies and preventive litigation. Our team is also prepared to apply and protect the right to industrial property, monitoring and taking the necessary measures to ensure compliance. We have extensive experience in negotiation, drafting and registration of various types of contracts related to property rights intellectual property, such as licensing, technology transfer, assignment and technical and franchise assistance, in addition to structuring agreements concerning biotechnology, research and development, including application of the Innovation Law.

We are proud to be the first full-service Brazilian law firm to focus on innovation and entrepreneurship through cooperation with accelerators, capital funds, universities and enthusiastic large companies corporate venture. Our work with regulatory bodies allows us to the development of a stimulating environment for the ecosystem of innovation, and our professionals are members of committees of the most relevant Brazilian associations dedicated to entrepreneurship and venture capital.
