RECOGNITION

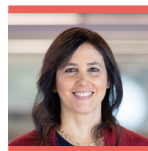

Due to the daily advance of technology and the internet, in particular with the implementation of the 5G mobile communication technology in Brazil, the telecommunications industry is constantly evolving and always presents new dynamics to those who act in the area, as new technologies impact telecommunications services and are regulated by regulatory agencies, such as Brazilian Telecommunications Agency (ANATEL). With extensive experience in the most diverse telecommunications applications, our practice area has acted in cases related to mobile telephony (Personal Mobile Service - SMP) and fixed telephony (Fixed Commuted Telephone Service - STFC), broadband connection (Multimedia Communication Service - SCM), satellite applications (Global Mobile Satellite Service - SMGS), and value-added services (VAS) to the telecommunications activities.

Always up to date with the developments in telecommunications regulations, our team assists national and international clients in a wide range of telecommunications issues and its performance comprises consultations, draft of legal opinions, analysis and negotiation of telecommunications service agreements and performance in administrative proceedings before ANATEL, as well as assistance to telecom service providers in complying with regulatory obligations before ANATEL.

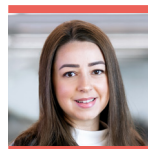

Established before the privatization of the telecommunications sector and with expertise in Cybersecurity & Data Privacy, Mergers and Acquisitions and Foreign Investment, our Telecommunications team provides cutting-edge and interdisciplinary legal solutions and bases its solid knowledge in innovative legal strategies.
